TIP OF THE WEEK

Ramadan is a special month in the Islamic calendar when practising Muslims show their respect for the time in which Allah revealed his teachings to the Prophet Mohammad. To show respect and solidarity with colleagues, students, faculty, and peers during Ramadan, consider doing the following: 1. Understand the basics around Ramadan 2. Understand that fasting does not mean dieting 3. Be sensitive to the effects of abstinence on colleagues and peers 4. Understand that the month is not necessarily an unpleasant experience 5. Try not to smoke, drink, or eat in front of those fasting – From independent.co.uk
