

William & Mary
School of Education

PH.D.–EPPL–HIGHER EDUCATION ADMINISTRATION

Hone your leadership skills in higher education.

Take your career to the next level with William & Mary’s Ph.D. in Educational Policy, Planning & Leadership (EPPL) with a concentration in Higher Education Administration. This terminal degree prepares students for positions of leadership and administration within a wide range of institutions of higher education. Learn to advance scholarship and leadership through research and contribute to the body of knowledge in the field. Our committed and experienced faculty will guide you every step of the way. We also offer two combined degree programs, allowing students to add study in business or public policy.

FAST FACTS

Designed for: Higher education professionals interested in research and advanced leadership positions

Prerequisite: Master’s degree in education or related field

Coursework: Full-time and part-time options available. 69 credit hours. Most coursework is offered in the evening hours to accommodate working professionals

Entry term: Fall

Culminating Experiences: Fieldwork is integrated into coursework; Research seminar; 6-credit dissertation

FIELD/RESEARCH EXPERIENCES

Ph.D. students in higher education are integral members of the higher education program, providing research and teaching support as a part of their program.

Assistantships: Graduate assistantships are the primary source of financial aid offered to full-time students and also provide valuable experience working within a higher education setting. Positions are available in offices and departments at William & Mary, as well as at neighboring institutions.

Research: In addition to extensive coursework in educational research, Ph.D. students develop their own line of research with the help of a faculty advisor. A research seminar is followed by a dissertation experience supervised by a committee made up of three faculty members.

COURSE TOPICS INCLUDE:

CORE SEQUENCE

- Educational policy development and analysis
- Educational planning and leadership
- Cross-disciplinary perspectives

RESEARCH SEQUENCE

- Principals of educational research
- Statistics in education
- Qualitative research design and methods
- Applied field research project

CONCENTRATION AREA

- History of higher education
- Developmental themes and social contexts of college students
- Organization and governance

CULMINATING EXPERIENCES

- Research seminar
- Dissertation developed with faculty advisor

LEARN MORE

View the program of study
at education.wm.edu/eppl

Questions about applying?
Contact graded@wm.edu
757-221-2317

William & Mary School of Education

EDUCATIONAL POLICY, PLANNING & LEADERSHIP

As the world quickly changes, education must evolve to ensure that today's students are prepared to meet the world of tomorrow. To do that, we need educational leaders with the knowledge, skills and tools to effectively lead that change.

The Department of Educational Policy, Planning & Leadership is preparing the educational leaders who will guide, influence and shape institutions at all levels of education. We offer on-campus programs in K-12, gifted and higher education administration, as well as an Ed.D. for working professionals who wish to study at the intersection of theory and practice.

In addition to a solid foundation in educational theory, ideas and inquiry, students are challenged to ask the tough questions in education and lead transformative innovation in schools and communities.

With a focus on equity and excellence, our programs in educational leadership will prepare you to be an agent of change and a bold leader in education.

EDUCATIONAL POLICY, PLANNING & LEADERSHIP DEGREE PROGRAMS

Curriculum and Educational Leadership (Ph.D.)

Higher Education Administration (M.Ed. & Ph.D.)

Gifted Education Administration (Ph.D.)

K-12 Leadership (Certificate, M.Ed.)

Ed.D. with concentrations in gifted education, higher education administration, international school leadership, and K-12 administration

APPLY NOW

Application deadlines vary by program.

Find full details about applying online at education.wm.edu/admissions

WHY W&M?

Looking to pursue a graduate degree in education? Here are a few reasons to consider W&M:

A welcoming and supportive community

The School of Education is big enough to offer a diverse range of programs, people and experiences, but small enough to feel like family. You'll make close connections with your fellow students and your professors — relationships that will stay with you for life and help you forge your own career path.

A focus on leadership in education

Our programs produce leaders — people with the passion, skills and tenacity to effect change in education. Our alumni achieve early recognition, becoming school leaders and innovators.

A campus in the heart of historic Williamsburg

Founded in 1693, W&M is a campus that offers years of history and countless beloved traditions.

Professors who are leaders in the field

Our faculty are recognized and respected around the world for instruction and research. They're passionate about their own research as well as the success of their students — they are, after all, teachers first and foremost.

Field experiences that will change your life

You won't be stuck in lectures and you won't have to wait until after graduation to begin making a difference in the lives of students and communities. Opportunities abound to pursue meaningful, fulfilling experiences that allow students to both learn and contribute.

Programs for students at every career stage

Our graduate programs are designed to meet the needs of a diverse student population that includes full-time and part-time students, people re-entering the paid work force after raising a family, and recent recipients of bachelor's or master's degrees preparing for advanced positions in the field of education.