

SHANGHAI STUDENT EXCHANGE COUNSELING & THERAPY SUMMER 2015

You are invited to join an international professional and cultural program to Shanghai China this July 2 - 15, 2015. The goal of this two-week exchange program is to explore issues relevant to counseling, psychology, marriage, and family life in China, including traditional and innovative methods of intervention. Our group will meet with our professional counterparts and fellow graduate students at the Tongji University and Fudan University in Shanghai. We will also meet with participating hospitals, professionals.

During the trip we will share information, develop relationships, and foster a bilateral cultural exchange of ideas. We hope that you will be actively engaged as both a presenter, and a learner. You can accrue up to 30 hours of continuing education units. The program is targeted for students in counseling, family therapy, psychology, social work, and human services areas. Participants must apply and be approved for participation. Contact us by email for application materials. Space is limited.

The program cost per participant is $2500 USD. This program cost includes in-country group transportation, meetings, cultural activities, accommodations, most meals, and most other costs associated with participation. You are responsible for roundtrip airfare from your departure city to Pudong International Airport (PVG), some meals, and spending money for free time activities.

We are pleased to be involved in this exciting opportunity, and hope you will strongly consider participating.
