What is a “contract“ and what happens if things go wrong?

This course is aimed at high school and college students who are interested in understanding the basic element of commercial life: contracts. Through interactive and hands-on class sessions, participants will be guided through an introduction to American contract law.

With a mixture of critical thinking and analytical writing, participants will be encouraged to:

- Understand the basic components of a binding contract
- Analyze clauses taken from real-life contracts and discuss their effect
- Explore what happens to a contract when “things go wrong”: this will cover areas such as misrepresentation, implied terms, breach of contract and damages
- During the last class, participants will be required to draft their own first contract

Location: William & Mary Law School, 613 S. Henry St., Williamsburg, VA

Dates/Times: Monday-Wednesday, July 30 – August 1, 2018 (1:00-4:00 p.m.)

Cost: $210.00*

Register: https://www.regonline.com/introtocontractlaw2018

Instructor: Iria Giuffrida, Visiting Assistant Professor of Law and Associate Director for Research at the Center for Legal and Court Technology, William & Mary Law School

Professor Giuffrida has a PhD in Law and has been a commercial litigator in London for nearly a decade.

Presented by: The Center for Legal and Court Technology, The College of William & Mary Law School

A limited number of need-based scholarships will be available. Please contact clct@wm.edu or call 757-221-2494 to learn more.

For additional information, please contact us at clct@wm.edu or 757-221-2494.